Welcome to your new train timetable

From 20 March to 7 August, Glasgow Queen Street High Level station will be closed to allow us to carry out essential renewal, maintenance and preparatory enhancement work in the tunnel that leads to and from the station. The concrete track bed that runs the complete length of the tunnel will be replaced throughout this 20 week period. During this time longer distance trains to/from Aberdeen and Inverness will be diverted to Glasgow Central High Level station. All other services that normally start/terminate at Glasgow Queen Street High Level station will now run to/from Glasgow Queen Street Low Level. By carrying out this work now, it will allow for the introduction of electric trains on the route between Edinburgh and Glasgow Queen Street High Level from December this year. Following on from this, in autumn 2017, new electric trains will be introduced across the central belt which will bring more seats and shorter journey times for our customers.
